

Change to receiving office

From 31 July 2012, the receiving office for New Zealand visa applications for people applying from Papua New Guinea Islands is changing.

Currently, people from Papua New Guinea lodge their applications for temporary visas at the New Zealand High commission in Port Moresby. From 31 July 2012, these applications should be sent to the New Zealand Visa Application Centre in Port Moresby.

TT Services will charge a visa facilitation fee of NZ$29 per application, with the exception of RSE work visa applications, which will have a visa facilitation fee of NZ$14 per application. The visa facilitation fee should be submitted separately with each application along with the relevant visa application fee.

All applications should be lodged in person or by mail to:
